Writer Eduardo Corral and four seniors in the Lewis Center for the Arts' Program in Creative Writing at Princeton University will read from their work at Labyrinth Books in Princeton. Featuring student writers Olivia Lloyd, Alec Lowman, Namkyu Oh, and Zoë Perot.

Eduardo Corral is the author of Slow Lightning, which won the 2011 Yale Series of Younger Poets prize. His poems have appeared in Best American Poetry 2012, Beloit Poetry Journal, Huizache, Jubilat, New England Review, Ploughshares, Poetry, and Quarterly West. He is a CantoMundo fellow and the recipient of a Whiting Writers' Award and a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts. He has also been awarded a "Discovery"/The Nation Award, the J. Howard and Barbara M. J. Wood Prize from Poetry, and residencies to the MacDowell Colony and Yaddo. He has served as the Olive B. O'Connor Fellow in Creative Writing at Colgate University and as the Philip Roth Resident in Creative Writing at Bucknell University. Corral teaches in the low-residency M.F.A. program at Pacific University.

The Emerging Writers Reading Series at Labyrinth Bookstore showcases senior thesis students of the Program in Creative Writing and features established writers as special guests.
